MISSION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA

The University of Alabama, the State's oldest public university, is the senior comprehensive doctoral level institution in Alabama. Established by constitutional provision, with subsequent statutory mandates and authorizations, the University's purpose is to advance the intellectual and social condition of all the people of the state through high quality programs of research, instruction, and outreach.

The University of Alabama activities emerge from a broad range of research programs, many of which are recognized for their contributions to the economic, technological, and cultural growth of the State and region. This research, supported by our library, a member of the National Association of Research Libraries, yields continuing stimulation for the instructional programs offered by the University's twelve colleges and schools. At the undergraduate level, the University offers a comprehensive range of baccalaureate programs in the arts and humanities as well as in scientific, technological, pre-professional, and professional fields. A university-wide core curriculum provides a strong general education component as the keystone of every undergraduate program. Graduate programs, built on these strong undergraduate foundations, concentrate on the development of original scholarship and research. In selected areas, including the State's only public law school, professional programs develop the highest levels of competence and leadership. As one of the major residential campuses in the State, the University enhances the academic and personal growth of all its students through its on-campus environment. Recognizing that education is a lifelong endeavor, the University offers a wide array of educational opportunities to adult and non-traditional students.

The University's research and instructional programs form a base for extensive outreach activities, providing a wide array of partnerships with business, non-profit organizations, and government through applications of new knowledge. These relationships cause the University's influence to extend beyond the bounds of the State as it assists developmental efforts at regional, national, and international levels.

Brief Profile of The University

Official Name: The University of Alabama

History/Location: In 1819 the Congress of the United States donated 46,000 acres of land within the State of Alabama for the endowment of a seminary of learning. The General Assembly of Alabama created the Board of Trustees in 1821, and on April 18, 1831, the University was opened for admission of students. On April 4, 1865, most of the University buildings were burned to the ground by a body of federal cavalry. The new buildings were begun in April 1869. On February 25, 1884, the federal government donated 22 sections of public land within the state to the University in restitution of its loss in buildings and equipment when the campus was destroyed in 1865. The institution is located in Tuscaloosa, a west central Alabama city of approximately 78,000 residents. University grounds comprise approximately 1,000 acres.

Type of Control: The State of Alabama chartered The University of Alabama (UA) with authority vested in a Board of Trustees that is self-perpetuating. The current Board elects new trustees from congressional districts, subject to confirmation by the State Senate.

Instructional Schools, Programs and Degrees: The instructional schools are Arts and Sciences, Commerce and Business Administration, Communication and Information Sciences, Community Health Sciences, Continuing Studies, Education, Engineering, Human Environmental Sciences, Nursing, Law, and Social Work. Enrollment: Fall 2001 enrollment totaled 19,171, which included 15,206 undergraduates, 3,340 graduate students, and 625 first-professional students; 88.9% of the undergraduates and 60.3% of the graduate students were enrolled on a full-time basis; 47.2% of the undergraduate students were male; 22.6% of the undergraduate and 40.0% of the graduate students were from out-of-state; 14.5% of the undergraduate and 9.9% of the graduate students were black, non-hispanic.

Admissions/Retention: 2,420 first-time freshmen were enrolled in the fall 2001; 39.2% of all admitted freshmen enrolled. Average composite ACT score for enrolled freshmen was 23.6. In general, 82% of the full-time, first-time freshmen return for their sophomore year, and 55% graduate within five years. The most current 6-year graduation rate is 59%.

Costs: 2001-02 annual full-time undergraduate tuition was $3,292 for residents and $8,912 for non-residents. Room and board costs were approximately $4,110.

Budget: For 2000-01, total current funds revenues were $383.6 million, including $117.7 million from state appropriations. Total current funds expenditures and mandatory transfers were $369.1 million. Restricted research expenditures were $22.8 million. In athletics, UA began football competition in 1892, and started NCAA Division I competition for men in 1906 and for women in 1974. UA is a member of the Southeastern Conference (SEC) for all sports.

Libraries: In addition to the Amelia Gayle Gorgas Library, which serves the humanities and social sciences, there are five separate discipline-related libraries (Business, Education, Science and Engineering, Health Sciences, and Law) and a special collections library. The total library system holds approximately 2,268,000 catalogued items (books, journals, etc.) and over 3,715,000 microform units. The libraries hold more than 1.2 million U.S. Government publications in print.

THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA MUSEUMS

The University of Alabama Museums include the Alabama Museum of Natural History, Moundville Archaeological Park and the Gorgas House. These museums maintain extensive research collections and provide public education programs and exhibits that reflect the history and culture of Alabama. Please visit the web site at museums.ua.edu.

The Alabama Museum of Natural History has two facilities for its collections and exhibits. Smith Hall, built at the turn of the century, has galleries and a grand exhibition hall containing displays of fossils, rocks and minerals from the Coal Age, the Dinosaur Age and the Ice Age, as well as a changing exhibits gallery. Hours are Tuesday - Saturday 10:00 a.m.-4:30 p.m. and Sunday 1:00 p.m.-4:30 p.m., except for University holidays. Admission charged. The Scientific Collections Facility, open to scholars and researchers, holds some of the largest scientific collections in the region. For information, call (205) 348-7550 or visit the web site at amnh.ua.edu.

Moundville Archaeological Park is a 320-acre National Historic Landmark containing more than 20 preserved prehistoric Indian mounds. At its height, 800 years ago, Moundville was America's largest city north of Mexico. Today, visitors can stroll along a boardwalk nature trail, scale the Chief's Mound to see the spectacular view of the central plaza, visit the Jones Archaeological Museum featuring exhibits on the culture of Native Americans and artifacts unearthed during the 1930s excavations, camp, hike, picnic, or meet on the grounds. The Moundville Park is also home of the recently excavated remains of the only earthlodge council house ever discovered in Alabama—one of only a few found in the nation. The park is open daily 8 a.m.-8 p.m. The museum is open 9 a.m.-5 p.m., except for University holidays. Admission charged. For information, call (205) 371-2234 or visit the park web site at moundville.ua.edu.

The Gorgas House, built in 1829, is one of four buildings that survived the burning of The University of Alabama during the Civil War in 1865. Designed as a dining hall for students, it later became known as the Gorgas House because former Confederate general Josiah Gorgas, who served briefly as president of The University of Alabama, and his wife, Amelia Gayle Gorgas, moved there in the late 19th century. The building is now a house museum and education center, open Tuesday – Friday, 10 a.m.-4 p.m., and Saturday, tentative, 10 a.m.-4 p.m., unless rented for a private event. Closed on University holidays. Admission charged. For information, call (205) 348-5906 or visit the web site at gorgashouse.ua.edu.

The University of Alabama Museums are available for rent after-hours for receptions and special events.

The University of Alabama Museums' Office of Archaeological Research operates the Erskine Ramsay Archaeological Repository at the David L. DeJarnette Archaeological Research Center. This state-of-the-art facility holds one of the largest and rarest historical and archaeological collections in the country. Researchers from all over the world use The University of Alabama Museums' collections as a basis for scholarly papers and books. Artifacts from the collections are on display in museums throughout the Southeast. For information, call (205) 348-7774 or (205) 371-2266 or visit the web site at archaeology.ua.edu.

THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA SPORTS BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES

Alabama's sports buildings and facilities consist of Paul W. Bryant Museum, Bryant-Denny Stadium, Sam Bailey Track Stadium, Hank Crisp Indoor Practice Facility, Coleman Coliseum, Gymnastics/Volleyball Practice Center, Thomas-Drew Practice Fields, Aquatic Center, Varsity Tennis Courts, Athletics Administration/Football Building, Sewell-Thomas Baseball Stadium, UA Women's Soccer Field, The University of Alabama Softball Complex, and Crimson Tide Golf Facilities.

Paul W. Bryant Museum - The Paul W. Bryant Museum offers over 100 years of Alabama football history and is a "must see" attraction. Drawn by the strong tradition of Alabama football, many visitors' initial contact with the University of Alabama is through the Bryant Museum experience. Guests of the museum are composed not only of fans of college football but also tourists, sports scholars, educators, school children, University of Alabama alumni, and donors. The exhibit hall of the Bryant Museum traces the history of UA football from its introduction by William Gray Little in 1892 to the present. Crimson Tide football coaches and player's careers, as well as highlights of Alabama's championships are featured. The press, public and researchers rely on the Bryant Museum as a reliable source for images and information. Each year the museum adds to its extensive collection of artifacts, library, and archival materials. Staff and assistants answer over 50 requests for information and images each month. The collection is shared with the public through outreach programs, tours, and publications. Located on the University of Alabama campus across the street from Coleman Coliseum, the museum is open daily from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Admission is charged. Phone: (205)348-4668 – Fax: (205)348-8883 – Web: www.museums.ua.edu/bryant/bryant.htm

Bryant-Denny Stadium – Bryant-Denny Stadium was constructed in 1929, then called Denny Stadium, with a seating capacity of 12,000. Since then, there have been a number of expansion projects to increase the stadium to its current seating capacity of 83,818. The stadium was renamed Bryant-Denny Stadium in 1975 by the Alabama State Legislature.

Sam Bailey Track and Field Stadium – Officially dedicated in 1989, Sam Bailey Stadium was named in honor of longtime Alabama assistant coach and associate athletic director and serves as the home for the Crimson Tide track and field programs. The stadium features a 2,000 seat grandstand and pressbox. The Olympic size track boasts eight oval lanes and up to 10 lanes on the straight-aways. The complex also has enough pits for all jumping events and a grass infield for all throwing events. Every year Sam Bailey Stadium plays host to over 2,000 athletes for the Alabama Relays, one of the nation's most prestigious track and field competitions.

Hank Crisp Indoor Practice Facility – The indoor practice facility houses four tennis courts, office space for the men's tennis head coach, and his assistant, restrooms, and a tennis players lounge area. The facility also features, separate from the courts, a 110-yard artificial turf football practice field, which is fully heated and air-conditioned.

Coleman Coliseum – Memorial Coliseum opened on January 30, 1968, and was renamed Coleman Coliseum in February 1988. It is the home of Alabama men's and women's basketball, as well as gymnastics and volleyball. The Coliseum has a seating capacity of 15,341 for basketball and 15,400 (when chairs can be added on the floor) for non-sporting events. The coliseum houses the athletic department offices, except football, swimming, and men's tennis, as well as the President's reception area, an auxiliary gymnasium, an equipment room, weight rooms, steam bath, training room, food service areas, photo studio, and locker room facilities for staff and athletes. The Coliseum has hosted a diversity of events, including commencement exercises, alumni gatherings, student convocations, concerts, operas, ballets and orations by political figures.

Gymnastics/Volleyball Practice Center — Built in 1996 as an expansion to Coleman Coliseum, the Practice Center has a 12,500 square foot main practice space, and a separate 2,000 square foot aerobics/dance studio. The practice gym features a permanent hardwood floor consisting of two full basketball playing surfaces or three volleyball courts. In 2000, the Crimson Tide volleyball squad began using the gym and dubbed the CAVE (Coleman Auxiliary Volleyball Extension) as its home arena. Portable seating allows for a capacity of 1,000.

Thomas-Drew Practice Fields – Located adjacent to the Hank Crisp Indoor Practice Facility and Administration/Football Building, the Thomas-Drew Practice Fields serve as the daily home for the Alabama football team. Boasting three full practice fields, the facility permits the Tide to work on any phase of the game. The fields were named in honor of former University of Alabama head football coaches Frank Thomas and Harold "Red" Drew.

Aquatic Center – The Aquatic Center, which opened in 1981, houses office space for coaches and administration, a complete weight room, dryland training areas, and meeting rooms. The Aquatic Center's main competition pool is 25 yards by 50 meters and seats 1,500. When set up for long course competition, the pool has eight nine-foot wide lanes, and when set up for short course competition, the pool can accommodate up to seventeen nine-foot wide lanes. The main pool has four diving boards, two one-meter and two three-meter, and a five and ten-meter platform for diving competitions. In addition to the main competition course, the Aquatic Center has an eight lane 25-yard pool.

Varsity Tennis Courts – The University men's and women's tennis teams compete and train on the varsity courts. The main court area features six courts placed directly in front of the stadium seats for easy viewing on any court from any angle within the stadium. Two more courts are adjacent to the main competitive courts. The stadium structure has a seating capacity of 2,000, and all the courts are lighted.

Athletics Administration/Football Building – In addition to administrative and coaches offices, the football building includes meeting, equipment, and locker rooms, as well as a state of the art weight room and training room. The Tide's spacious weight room is the workout home for Alabama football players. The 8,400 square foot area has the latest in weight and conditioning equipment.

Sewell-Thomas Baseball Stadium – Alabama baseball originally opened play at Thomas Field on March 27, 1948, with a seating capacity of 2,000. On April 6, 1991, a permanent grandstand was opened and the name of the facility was changed to Sewell-Thomas Stadium. In 1978, the facility was renamed Sewell-Thomas Field, and then with the addition of a permanent grandstand the complex was dubbed Sewell-Thomas Stadium in honor of former coach Frank Thomas and hall-of-famer Joe Sewell. The stadium, known as "The Joe" by Alabama fans, saw an addition of 2,000 seats, team locker rooms, and coaches' offices, along with a pressbox elevator in 2001 to push stadium capacity to its current 6,118 level.

Alabama Women's Soccer Field – In an elevated field adjacent to the university's student recreation center, the Alabama soccer field features lights and portable grandstand seating for 1,000 for all Crimson Tide home matches. New sod and other landscaping to the soccer field in 2001 provided the complex with a new and improved appearance.

The University of Alabama Softball Complex – The Stadium and clubhouse opened in 2000 with a seating capacity of 1,600 and has batting cages large enough to accommodate three hitters at one time. The clubhouse includes offices for the head coach and his staff, a shower area for the coaches, an umpires' locker room, a locker room for the players, a fully equipped training room, and a Crimson Tide team room. Two private luxury suites sit on both sides of the state-of-the-art pressbox that includes home and visitor radio booths, a television booth, a booth for the sound system, and a media room.

Crimson Tide Golf — With the recent completion of the Capstone Club, the University of Alabama men's and women's golf teams now have a course to call home. The Capstone, a 6,996 yard/Par 71 course, provides the team with its own private practice facility along with a fully furnished locker room and team room. Ol' Colony, a 7,041 yard/Par 72 course, also serves as a home for the Crimson Tide golf programs. In addition to these new courses, the Alabama golf teams benefit from the opportunity of being able to access several golf courses in the Tuscaloosa area for practice.

Charles L. Seebeck Computer Center

The University of Alabama provides computing resources for research and instruction through the Seebeck Computer Center, housed in the Gordon Palmer Hall Annex. The computer center is part of the Office of Information Technology, which also includes the Faculty Resource Center and Telecommunications. The computer center staff maintains the campus network backbone, Internet connections, and central academic and administrative servers. Services provided include e-mail, Web hosting, calendaring, administrative business systems, software licensing, training, and personal computing assistance for University of Alabama faculty, staff, and students. Visit the Seebeck Computer Center Web site (computercenter.ua.edu) for more information.

Helpdesk

The HelpDesk staff can answer technological questions and find solutions to hardware and software problems. Assistance is available by phone (348-2435), by e-mail (Help.Desk@ua.edu), on the HelpDesk Web site (helpdesk.ua.edu), and in person at the HelpDesk counter (A-203 Gordon Palmer Hall). The HelpDesk is open from 8:00 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Network Access

The University of Alabama is a full participant in the Internet and a charter member of the Internet2 project, which supplies high-speed network access for research and teaching. For additional information on the Internet2 project, visit the University's Internet2 Web site (internet2.ua.edu). The University is also a participant in the Alabama Research and Education Network (AREN), which was established to provide a state network and access to the resources of the Alabama Supercomputer Authority (ASA). For more information about AREN local access and support, visit the ASA's Web site (www.asc.edu).

E-Mail

E-mail accounts are available on the central academic server (bama.ua.edu) for all students, faculty, and staff members. These accounts support access through a Web interface (bamamail.ua.edu), IMAP, and POP. Account information is available at the HelpDesk.

ResNet

Seebeck Computer Center supports the campus Residence Hall Network (ResNet). ResNet, which provides direct in-room Internet connections, is available in certain residence halls for a per-semester usage fee. For more information on ResNet, including policies, minimum system requirements, and fees, visit its Web site at (ResNet.ua.edu).

UA Dialup Access

Seebeck Computer Center offers free dialup service for connectivity to campus resources. There are a limited number of connections available and each session can last up to 90 minutes. Faculty, staff, and students who need unlimited access are urged to contact one of the numerous Internet Service Providers with local connections. Information about setting up a computer for dialup access or obtaining dialup service is available from the HelpDesk or the HelpDesk Web site (helpdesk.ua.edu/internet).

Business Machine Services

The office of Business Machine Services (BMS) is the University's onsite computer service and repair agency. Microcomputer service contracts for departments and offices are available at a very reasonable price. For contracting departments, BMS can offer assistance with setups, upgrades, repairs, configurations, peripherals, and general information on all aspects of computer hardware. BMS can also assist with warranty inquiries for Dell, Hewlett Packard, and Apple hardware. For more information, call BMS at 348-7509.

Calendaring

The University's central calendaring application is powered by a Steltor CorporateTime server running on bama.ua.edu. This system is available for use by departments, faculty, staff, and student workers and can be accessed via a client application or a Web interface. Supported features include inviting other users to meetings, creating groups, managing tasks, and having another user designated to manage your calendar account. For more information, see the calendar section of the HelpDesk Web site (helpdesk.ua.edu/calendar).

Computer Training

Seebeck Computer Center, in conjunction with Human Resource Development, offers computer training on a number of topics. Offerings include self-paced computer-based Microsoft Windows and Office training as well as instructor-led classes in various software products. Advanced classes are taught in the Office of Information Technology training lab, which is equipped with fifteen PCs, two iMacs, and a projector system. Human Resource Development publishes a training schedule each semester both in print and online. For more information, see the training section of the HelpDesk Web site (helpdesk.ua.edu/pcmac/training).

Hardware

Seebeck Computer Center supports and maintains a Sun Enterprise 6000 server system (for academic applications and network services), a Sun Enterprise 4000 server (for library applications), and an IBM 9672 Enterprise Server (for administrative applications), plus a variety of other Windows NT and Unix servers. Some of the support services provided include the campus name server, a news server, a mailing list (LISTSERV) server, Web hosting, e-mail services, and high-speed laser printing. The computer center also provides a small computer lab for student use. It contains nine Dell Optiplex computers, one of which is wheelchair-accessible.

WILLIAM STANLEY HOOLE SPECIAL COLLECTIONS LIBRARY

Organized by University Librarian Dr. William Stanley Hoole in 1945, the library was named in his honor in October 1977. The library moved from the fourth floor of the Gorgas Library to its current location in 1993. It is located on the second floor of Mary Harmon Bryant Hall, 500 Hackberry Lane, Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

The Hoole Special Collections' Gandrud Reading Room is open from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday and on Thursdays from 8:00 a.m. until 9:00 p.m. when the University is open.

ALABAMA COLLECTION

The Alabama Collection is a continually expanding collection consisting of published materials in a variety of formats including books, pamphlets, sound recordings, maps, microfilm, newspapers, photographs, electronic records, and video recordings. These materials document the unique cultural and historical experience of Alabama, and include materials written by Alabamians, about Alabama and its people, places and culture, as well as materials published within the state. All University of Alabama Press publications are included, as well as archival copies of all theses and dissertations completed at the University of Alabama.

WADE HALL COLLECTION OF SOUTHERN HISTORY AND CULTURE

A continuing gift of Union Springs, Alabama, native Dr. Wade Hall, this large collection contains books, sheet music, sound recordings, photographs, and other materials that reflect the culture and history of the South.

RARE BOOK COLLECTION

The Rare Book Collection consists of a broad range of materials that complement and support the diverse curriculum at the University of Alabama. Included among these treasures are a collection of first editions of Sir Walter Scott's works, the works of Robinson Jeffers, the works of Lafcadio Hearn, Confederate Imprints, and a nearly complete set of the Armed Services Editions of paperback books designed for American servicemen during World War II. Among the earliest imprints housed in the Rare Book Collection is a rubricated copy of Thomas A Kempis, De Imitatione Christi, dated 1488, and / Missale Romanum/, dated 1483.

SUMMERSELL COLLECTION

Named in honor of this distinguished member of the history faculty, the Summersell Collection is composed of publications relating to the maritime history of the Gulf of Mexico. The materials in it are available through the Libraries catalog.

RUCKER AGEE COLLECTION

A gift of noted Alabama book collector Rucker Agee, this collection of books, pamphlets, and maps pertaining to Alabama is available through the Libraries catalog.

BOOK ARTS COLLECTION

The hand-produced book in all its manifest guises is the focus of the Book Arts Collection. It features contemporary bookbinding's, unique artist's books, as well as printed works from the world's leading fine presses and printers. The collection is well represented by both student and leading professional book workers, and is continually growing. Also included in this collection is the archive of decorated papers. This rich collection supports the School of Library and Information Studies' Master of Fine Arts program in the Book Arts.

MANUSCRIPT COLLECTION

The Hoole Library collects manuscripts that reflect the history and culture of Alabama from the colonial period to the present. Collections include papers of a number of former Alabama congressmen and senators, records of businesses ranging from general stores to iron and coal companies, records of churches and social and professional organizations, and personal papers of individuals and families. The collections document the lives of people of diverse backgrounds, from farmers and plantation owners to soldiers, politicians, educators, and others.

UNIVERSITY ARCHIVES AND RECORDS MANAGEMENT

The University of Alabama Archives consists of materials generated by university departments and offices from its founding in 1831. These include records of administrators, faculty, and cadets/students. The later records (after 1920) encompass the entire operational aspect of The University of Alabama. Noteworthy items include the papers of all of the former University of Alabama Presidents and other key administrators.

The University Archives also contains a broad range of University publications that are catalogued in the Hoole Library. Notable among these are the school yearbook (Corolla), the school newspaper (Crimson White), University catalogs, and the records of some student organizations.

MAP COLLECTION

Maps in this collection cover Alabama and the Southeast from the 16th century through the late 20th century. An important subset of this group, the Warner Map Collection, contains over sixty very fine examples of 16th, 17th and 18th century cartography. The earliest of these is a 1585 Ortelius map of the world that clearly outlines the southeastern portion of what is now the United States. Another important component of this collection is an extensive set of Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps for the State of Alabama.

GENERAL INFORMATION

When the University of Alabama is in session, the Hoole Special Collections Library is open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, except on Thursday, when hours extend until 9:00 p.m. Library patrons and visitors are welcome during these hours. The use of materials is restricted to the Gandrud Reading Room. Admittance to the Reading Room requires compliance with all library policies regarding security, use, and appropriate conduct. While no advance appointment is required, it is recommended that researchers call ahead to inform Special Collections staff of their project and upcoming visit.

The University of Alabama actively seeks and welcomes donations of materials appropriate to the William Stanley Hoole Special Collections Library and encourages support for the preservation, restoration, and use of the collections.
